Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, December 25, 2003 - 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, stop underestimating yourself. Your state of tiredness does nothing but add to this feeling hindering your gifts. Yes, there are many repetitions: they are inevitable, we said it enough, they are necessary. Over time, these messages have brought forward new aspects, capable of widening the point of view of our brothers on their spiritual journey. As they stand, they can feed on the many points never addressed in our writings before. What can touch the inner being deeply cannot be identified on the first reading. It requires a deeper consideration incompatible with a quick and superficial reading that does not touch the heart. Our remarks are not intended for the intellect: they go well beyond and target one of the indestructible aspects of the personality of the reader. The vibration emanating from them is not tangible; a sufficiently receptive heart feels it in the depth of its being.

"Setting out to read us is a kind of 'open-eye' meditation. It must be done in the best conditions, conducive to a subtle comprehension, beyond the usual reactions whereby judgement restricts the understanding of the reader. Here, we are not within the usual framework where each stands according to their own criteria of assessment. It is advisable to go beyond them and to let the magic of words come into play. Its impact, for the occasion, takes place well beyond forms. Do not limit yourself, my daughter, by thinking that your performances limit our remarks. Try to be more confident in us and be assured on this point, won't you!"
