Sunday, January 4, 2004 - 10:00 AM

Overcome the worries inherent in this world, and immerse yourself in a vibration of love, as requested by your heart. Visualize yourself following your Master in his works, [while he is] performing everywhere where he is, a work capable of helping not only our brothers and sisters, but also people of these countries. The action of a spiritual Master of his level is not limited to a group. Being divinely inspired, he acts accordingly for the multitude.

"It is not easy, for our aspirants, to imagine the actual responsibilities of their Master. What is important for them is to follow him in greatest confidence, without whimsically picturing his powers. They are beyond [our aspirants'] comprehension. Each one must stick to his own; that is how it is at all the levels of consciousness. The veil is being raised parsimoniously, from step to step. A form of knowledge is given, which must be perfectly mastered, before moving to the next step. Quality taking precedence over quantity, the supreme guide is capable of judging and acting according to His liking, in the interest of the blossoming of a soul. The more it rises up, the more rigorous the selection. The progress of our aspirants is being monitored in the best way possible; the quality of their work is more important than they can imagine. All this complexity is beyond them, how could it be otherwise! The wise man is satisfied with what is given to him. He is thankful for having been chosen to follow a way under the best auspices.

"Love grows in him, who can see it as the supreme blessing. What more can he require, except surrendering more and more to the divine will."

Babuji