Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, January 18, 2004 – 10:30 a.m.

We know that you enjoy reading poem-like messages in the quietness of your Sunday rest, which is not the case today. You will regain joy owing to your dear dark-haired loved ones who intend to share with you a detailed report of their stay with their Revered Master.

"May they recall with love these unique moments spent with him and share them with you, my dear daughter. Be blessed."
