Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 12, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

I approve of your desire. One can do a lot through thought and visualization, you know that.

Never stop proceeding in this way, do it with joy, with unfailing enthusiasm. Seen in this light, your role is even more active. If you give it the necessary form, this work will become constructive.

Everything is possible in this field. You must go beyond the practice, even if it is rigorous. By having firmly in mind this idea of the expansion of the Mission, by seeing it being established throughout the world for the good of humanity, you are taking action.

There is no stopping a current of thought when it is right. Such an effective and simple way is available to all.

Let us wish, together, that a growing number of human beings can benefit from it and reach higher planes.

Thus, we will progress towards the golden age.
