Thursday, May 13, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

You had to learn patience in this life. It is a major quality. See how everything is done slowly around you; observe nature, the cycle of the seasons, the worlds which are built and the achievement of the beings. Time is master; nothing can change its course. It will not accelerate for your pleasure. Time is, full stop. All living kingdoms on Earth must conform to it. Biding one's time is man's stumbling block. It is necessary to wait for everything, always. Thanks to time, the world is in perpetual evolution, it is the magic wand of the Creator.

"When you come to join us, you will get out of this context. You will go through other experiences; what you will have lived on the Earth will belong to your assets. Your preparation will be conducive to facing another kind [of experience].

"Nothing is lost; everything is useful; your assets will open the doors to you. Re-examine your life in detail. Your logbook is perhaps richer than you believe; the good and the evil are equally beneficial. The important thing is to draw lessons from everything."

Babuji