Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, February 7, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

This 'correspondence' has reached the very point we wished for; it is taking shape accordingly. This fact is out of the ordinary, but the spirit makes light of the limits that men generally stumble over. Being incarnate, this area is not accessible to them, and all the nice theories cannot remedy it. We wish to open, to our brothers of the future, a door to the infinite that will give them an inkling of what life can be beyond this vibratory system that is quite limited for good reasons.

"Our comments may seem surprising, but that is a fact: the lights of knowledge of this world are far from being outstanding. It is a probationary and experimental place of work that is far different from what is portrayed in the literature produced by certain religions that have distorted the teachings of the Masters. We are likely to shock, but one day all the truth will really need to be revealed: it is the only way humanity will progress. Scepticism will give way to amazement, and then to certitude in the face of outstanding facts.

"We are trying to prepare people's minds bit by bit for the moment; we cannot go any faster. Our foremost recommendation is to encourage our aspirants to work hard. When one is opening up to divine splendour, it is easier to conceive what life really is, now and beyond this world where it extends and changes, yet remains an emanation of the Divine. Working towards the elevation of humanity remains our priority; preparing it to grow on all levels is a long-term project.

"Everything is slow on this Earth; we cannot change the system for the moment. Let us do things one by one. May all be strengthened and blessed in view of that."
