Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, February 12, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

We are pleased to see you cosmically united, which results in a special and interesting correspondence. At the dawn of the new era that is arousing the curiosity of men who are sensitive to this fact,we cannot stand aloof and withhold a foretaste of what the era will be, in terms of its manifestations. Minds are opening up very slowly. Some of our brothers are forging ahead; others more timid in the face of novelty prefer to stay in the background. We cannot rush them. They must follow their own evolution, and we only hope that one day they will find some glimmers of light in reading us.

"Enlightening men is not easy. From time immemorial, forerunners have caused amazement, and even the denial of a reality which is yet obvious. From century to century, reality has been trying to prevail in this world that grapples with the darkness of intolerable ignorance at moments when humanity believes it has reached the heights of knowledge. Many prefer to remain blind and deaf to the signs given to them, instead of soul-searching in every respect.

"Striking events will have to stun them, so that they can advance and eventually accept the first truths meant to facilitate their evolution. We are not there yet. Our brothers are not the most underprivileged in this matter: most of them are open-minded and are therefore among those who are most capable of adjusting to the signs heralding future times.

"Let us all work accordingly, so that humanity can grow in wisdom by opening up to the eternal truths that have been ridiculed for too long on this Earth. Our way prepares aspirants, who follow it with confidence, to accept these truths and grow in their approach to the Divine."
