Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Friday, February 13, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

The whole of these writings, including the 'correspondences', does not result from a customary process. These writings will remain one of the features of our way. After an initial period of amazement, many of our brothers will appreciate their contents. Being accustomed to them, they will carry on this reading with interest. This work was not done in vain; it will contribute new aspects to our teachings.

"This collection of messages covers a wide range of topics. There may well be some that will likely interest our readers.

"We will try, as far as possible, to continue in this direction. Rest, my daughter; it is necessary. Be blessed!"
