Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, April 4, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

We must adapt to your capabilities of the moment and take advantage of these contacts where your heart is faithfully listening to ours. Everything, or almost everything, has been said in these writings meant to prepare the future that is so often mentioned here. Future times will be able to grant these writings their appropriate place. The truth is starting to dawn; it will make its way into hearts, sweeping away anything that unscrupulous men, taking advantage of human credulity, have developed based on a framework of fantasy. Since the beginning of life in this world, the strongest have manipulated the weakest. May wisdom eventually dawn in each one, for the good of all."
