It is necessary to accept the good and the evil with equal gratitude.

"What you consider as evil is actually one of your best weapons, according to the way you manage the situation. One needs fortitude to consider tests as blessings. With time, you will experience a different state of mind in the face of the difficulties which keep arising in one's lifetime."

The Medium: "Babuji, the scribe is not in good shape today, she is doing her level best but..."

"She is operating pretty well; we manage to convey the main thing. Even if these messages always address by and large the same topics, it is important to present them in this form of dialogue. We are there, face to face, and we exchange, is this not beautiful? We thus express all our love for our aspirants. We would love to carry them, to make them advance very quickly and liberate them, but we are bound to comply with certain rules. These messages will help.

"As you can see, you are useful, my daughter, you who despair for not being active in a way in line with your personality. All that you are doing was planned for a long time; we were waiting for the right moment, quite simply. See how lucky you are to be able to serve us like this.

"Be happy."
