Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Wednesday, April 7, 2004 – 10:25 a.m.

My dear daughter, as you can see, we are also attentive to your health problems, with which we are helping you as much as possible. Your life must be considered in terms of these many aspects.

"An incarnation is a whole, meant to mould the souls of the beings grappling with the many and varied tangled threads of their destiny. Nothing should be neglected in the great divine plans that lead humanity to its apogee, passing through painful stages experienced collectively and individually by each member of humanity. This whole exists, ranging from the infinitely small to the infinitely great. It is indivisible in terms of its manifestations which man misunderstands, as he is completely disconcerted by this divine power which, given his extreme smallness, he cannot comprehend.

"May our brothers become receptive to phenomena that are in most cases beyond them, by freeing themselves from a certain number of generally accepted ideas that distort their judgement in many circumstances. The era of enlightenment is dawning on the horizon; we are guiding them as well as possible, in this respect."
