Your heart is not weary of loving, my child – isn't that the most important thing! On Earth or elsewhere, this characteristic will follow you. Do not sink into melancholy this way; in spite of its ordeals, your life transcends the ordinary. What you are experiencing seems natural to you, but it is not accessible to everyone. Do you realise the exceptional experiences you are blessed to go through? Please regain courage, for the love of us.

The Earth is entering into a period of renewal; it will, in an increasingly striking manner, go through stages that will be disturbing for individuals. Electromagnetic pollution is reaching a very alarming level for human beings, although such facts are neither revealed nor completely grasped by observers. That is how the system is, and it is not easy to reverse it, hence the silence on this issue. There are numerous and varied kinds of pollution that affect human beings insidiously, destabilising them to a greater or lesser degree according to their sensitivity. Dark days will come, due to all sorts of excesses for which there will be no solution.

Tomorrow's society will face many other problems, including an upsurge of violence that will be significant. The critical point will have to be reached to trigger the transformation. For the time being, spirituality is the only solution. Its progress in people's hearts, imperceptible but definite, will take place as foreseen. Therefore, all is not negative in this aberrant but not desperate situation. God is Great. His laws are rigorous but fair, and they work for the good, even if they must manifest through stages that are destructive and trying for all life forms that are touched by this process.

May our brothers and sisters take refuge in love and in the confidence that is derived from it!
