These messages are also a way of addressing concretely my son, with whom, moreover, we communicate on other levels of consciousness. His powers have increased tenfold; he himself cannot evaluate the extent [of that increase] while being incarnate. Our Mission is blessed with a Master of great stature, beyond what our aspirants may imagine. They do not have the relevant and appropriate criteria of assessment. They are, most of the time, misled by their imagination: how can they assess effectively the true personality of their Master? He is. That's all, and time will give him his right place in people's minds and especially in their hearts.

"Most of our brothers see him as an individual, whom they become attached to, without being aware of his true dimension. Facts repeat themselves, as was the case with me; humans primarily focus on appearances. He is in this world to completely achieve his mission, but his heart already is no longer here below. Our personalities are merged together in the infinite spaces; they are only as one, serving the same cause.

"Soon, I will address him personally; he should not lose heart, he does not assess the scope of his action. How could he do so? Humanly he does not have all the data allowing him to accurately assess the impact of our way in the hearts. Many are already conquered, but they remain in obscurity, as the moment has not come yet for them to join the group.

"Work is progressing actively; the final harvest will be fruitful. The Master's action is expanding, it is swarming beyond our way, hasn't humanity one and the same heart? It is being conquered through a brave fight in view of the final result."
