You see, you are not forgotten as you believe you are: a kind soul came towards you to help you. You can find in yourself all that which you are deprived of by your isolation; isn't your heart connected to ours! These contacts make you go into spaces where your brothers and sisters do not go; they embellish your personal search by filling it with graces. You have a special role in our Mission. Therefore, my daughter, let joy suffuse your soul and reinvigorate you.

"My son is being rejuvenated in an atmosphere, which is appropriate to him; his movements make him access this place he has a liking for. Your destinies differ but they converge in the divine service where each one of you gives your best in your own way. A spiritual Master of his level illuminates sincere hearts dedicated to our cause, in greatest disinterestedness. Our way is asserting itself and is being consolidated on its foundations; the work is being felt in the hearts, it is rejoicing to note it and the superiors are satisfied.

"We will not insist any longer today, you need to rest. Remain with us in spirit; be blessed."
