Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Confidence and surrender – what more can we tell you, my child. Your path is challenging and you can only accept it. We alleviate it as much as possible. Therefore cultivate these treasures in you that constitute your strength; they motivate you to serve us.

"Love us; your heart is a garden where this rare flower of love proliferates and whose fragrance is intoxicating. The mere mention of it brings comfort and peace to you. Let your soul fully enjoy the graces it receives. You deserve to rest; each day you give your best to meet our request. You must rest. Keep us in your heart and all will be well."
