Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, May 25, 2004 – 10:30 a.m.

Try to better protect yourself; it is not easy, given your health, to be able to manage so many things. Do not let yourself be affected, my child. Take refuge in this sanctuary where your worries become secondary. Immerse yourself in this rare vibration where you find calmness and serenity.

"You see once again that this step works wonders, all takes its right place again and peace settles into you. Our contact can then resume under better conditions. Our brothers and sisters cannot lose sight of this recourse in those difficult situations where it is not easy to be calm.

"The human being is confronted more and more with situations that are trying to his nervous equilibrium.

"A spiritual process well understood and properly used is critical; we underline it once more.

"Let us remain united in spirit, my child; it is like a thin thread connecting all hearts in a subtle way.

"Be blessed and strong in this commitment which is the goal of your life."
