Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, June 19, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

We see only your heart, my child. Your weaknesses, your character traits underline a strong personality that has its positive aspects. We do not judge you but appreciate you as you are, in particular for your efforts in serving us. You feed on love, which is being distilled in you with respect to us, and devotion fills your life; that's a rather satisfactory assessment!

"The constraints of a physical body compel you to remain at home, keeping you away from group events, such as meditations which you miss. This situation alone makes you suffer, but that doesn't in any way detract from your spiritual progress. There is no negligence in this situation, the way of the heart follows many meanders and adapts to the destiny of each one.

"To be our scribe places you in a special position that includes advantages and disadvantages, which we will not analyse here. You are following a way which is yours, so be confident. You are not forgotten by your Master. The relationship at the human level is not what is most important; you know this very well, so it is needless to dwell on this point.

"Once again, we insist on the fact that this message should not be regarded as personal, as you would be tempted to do. You know our motto, as you wrote it many times: all has its raison d'être. That, my child, is how you must consider these messages, whatever they may be."
