Messages received additionally constitute, by themselves, a teaching suitable for an elite of souls emerging in these times of the advent of a new era. They will be understood and appreciated, and they will become, in our way, a reference point. People's minds will open up more and more to a reality that is currently exceeding somewhat our brothers. Future times are in the making and we will not be outdone.

"Souls that become incarnate will, from that perspective, look for a teaching suitable for them in all respects. Those you call Indigo Children will be uncomfortable with these current outdated concepts. They will find a vibratory frame suitable for the subtlety of their ethereal bodies. Many of these beings are already living in this world. They are struggling to integrate the existing systems, which, to them, are devoid of interest most of the time. They have arrived at a turning point in the history of the world and are different; therefore they are often misunderstood, like anything that differs from the multitude. These beings will assemble and unite to re-create an environment that will satisfy them. They will be pacifist, spiritually advanced; they will go to the heart of the matter, naturally, without hesitation, as most of them will have an innate sense of wisdom. The time will come when the number of these beings will grow, to form an elite that will revive humanity and guide the most disadvantaged people.

"All is written and planned like that. May all be blessed!"
