Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, May 21, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

The Earth has its own laws. They cannot be understood by you all. They are beyond your comprehension; we have already touched on this subject.

Your incarnations on Earth correspond to a stage of your evolution. To perfect the work, it is necessary to go through all kinds of situations and personas with different facets. This way you have the opportunity to work on your weak points.

Sometimes you miss the chance offered to you to advance; you will have to start over again and again.

The great sages too have had incarnations as brigands before reaching the state of 'perfect'.

How much dross had to be cleaned off to arrive at this stage!

A bloodthirsty dictator also will have the opportunity to come back as a benefactor of humanity to settle his accounts. It is not as simple as that. These are, by and large, the possibilities offered to humans.

But how long will it take him to reach this stage?

Divine laws are always just. There is no definitive classification, with good guys on one side and bad ones on the other.

Where then would mercy, forgiveness and divine love for all His creatures lie?

Any soul can evolve and redeem itself, otherwise we would be in a sad situation with all the human defects.

Who is perfect here below? Each one must have a chance to transform themselves to reach perfection, even if it takes a great many lives to get to that point.

Never be judgemental; pray for all your brothers and sisters without distinction. All these rules are beyond you all, your views are much too limited.

Worry more about your own life than that of others.

God's purposes are unfathomable. Do not meddle in them, all will be well. You have enough to do with yourselves.
