Create your future within yourself, through acts and thoughts. They represent, as you know, a power one should not neglect. It can destroy, but in its positive aspect, it is able to contribute to the construction of a better world, in the prolongation of a personal transformation. It is all connected; any form created is interdependent with another one.

"This fundamental aspect of Creation is to be considered in priority, which men ignore completely. They do not respect life as a whole. A feeling of superiority urges them to destroy shamelessly anything that bothers them, or merely for their own pleasure. This category of individuals exists unfortunately in this world. Whether concerning their fellow men or any aspect of Creation, nothing stops them. As means being at their disposal are becoming increasingly powerful, mass-destruction can take place, which is accepted by most humans.

"This mess goes against divine laws and produces a dreadful karma. Who would be ready to see reason on this point, in this humanity standing in its infancy in terms of its current evolution? Some admit the principle, but they do not have any means of remedying this collective madness of destroying shamelessly any living thing. Everything must be paid for sooner or later. The comments being made herein will not be admitted by all, as an unfortunately worrying reality. Awareness will take place, perhaps too late, with respect to the upheavals that must occur here below, and for which the serious errors being alluded to will largely be responsible.

"We wish we could make our brothers aware of this serious problem which one day will become a dominant concern."
