Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, September 24, 2004 - 10:00 AM

Your sufferings are constructive, my child; you cannot know to which extent. You have already surpassed, a long time ago, already, the stage of rebellion. Your life was punctuated with ordeals and you managed to keep this heart of a child offered to the divine Providence. Some beings advance through life overwhelmed and bitter; others rise in acceptance, surrendering to the God of their heart. This state generates a fervour helping to surpass the difficult stages. Let us not misuse your strength. As your Master told you, your gifts are intact, only your current bad health limits our contacts. Be strong, we help you as much as possible."

Babuji