The Medium: "Babuji, living a cloistered life is one thing; not being able to communicate with you because of all these scary medicines, is something else. I would be very unhappy."

Be serene about that; we have a good channel, we are not going to give it up. Keep faith in us. Your life, like that of your fellow creatures, is like a play where scenes are created with well linked images so that the film is created from start to finish. There are various sequences in close succession that form a coherent whole, in line with what was planned by the [film] director. The last part of this film is important for you; you must play tight.

"You are not a medium by chance; the gifts bestowed on you for a long time allow you to help the others. It is your way of existing, and doing what you are doing in this moment: being our preferred scribe. Therefore smile through your tears, keep a cheerful heart like a child; you know that the heart's simplicity and purity attract grace.

"Do not change, endure valiantly; we admire. Never let the best in you be weakened."
