The twists and turns of the spirit are infinitely varied and rich. The day when man has managed to project himself into it in a conscious way, will be determining for his evolution. He will then be able to truly find his bearings and adjust his life according to the requirements he will consider as good. A corresponding openness will be offered to him, enabling him to progress up to his aspirations. Those are future prospects, which should encourage our brothers to prepare for this advent.

"These are not shallow formulas, unfounded; these times will come. The reality of the current world is far from leading one to suppose it and yet, it is in the making in secrecy and will become effective after some important changes. Humanity cannot remain confined in its current stagnation; the excesses and sufferings of all kinds that it generates cannot last forever.

"At this point, it is not constructive in the right direction, because it is exaggerated in terms of its manifestations exceeding the karmic framework. A general awareness should take place to better put into perspective the requirements of a life in terms of respecting oneself and others. This aspect seems to have lost its meaning, as aggressiveness is manifested constantly, unrestrainedly.

"Our brothers are engaged in a redeeming way preparing them for these changes. Our Mission was born from this point of view. We are not the only ones working in that direction; this transformation will be important and it will take place. So was it programmed!"
