You should be able to devote yourself to this work without being bothered, which is not the case. Regarding the results we are contemplating to obtain thanks to your gifts, you are not surrounded by a proper environment as you should be. It is a whole way of life, which should be reviewed. To what extent can it change in the current context? So many questions are yet to be answered.

"We know that you can go much further, but your conditions of living do not lend themselves to it, as well as your loneliness, which does not put you in a favourable condition. Don't feel too much worried by these remarks. Remain confident and surrendered, isn't it the best attitude? United with your Master through the heart, you can consider the future peacefully, like all our brothers following him in a promising process.

"To choose one's spiritual way, convinced of its effectiveness, testifies to a certain evolution and aptitudes making it possible to pursue the objective by putting oneself into it as is proper. In this matter, it is the heart that must dictate its laws, and not the intellect. The heart initiates an action that is then justified and fully blossoms in a process fulfilling the aspirations of the soul. Its intense life remains ignored by the majority of men who are inclined to satisfy the needs of a physical body more than the needs of the soul. There lies the tragedy of the inner self still frustrated in its thirst for the Divine. Will our brothers seize their luck? Will they go until the end, convinced that they have made the right choice? So do we wish!

"Life is nurtured by life, that which surpasses the banks of this world; it is immortal and timeless. Sahaj Marg is a means of owning it, of being fed on it spiritually, by consolidating bonds linking the soul to the divine source."
