Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Only complete surrender can lead to this faculty of receiving us as you do. Gifts are associated with a preparatory phase and total commitment. Love haloes these contacts; it is the essential element for that success. We have come a long way together; time has flown and it is good to note that the minds of our aspirants are opening up towards the dawning of a more general evolution.

"The elements are moving. Upheavals are in the offing and human beings are imperceptibly adjusting to new energies heralding future times. The most sensitive humans feel it, though they can be unsettled by those unperceivable but active vibratory movements. As per the pace of this planet, preparatory phases are slow, and then they lead to dazzling effectiveness when the moment comes.

"Planets must be aligned with the new lines of force, thus foreshadowing the new era that will dismantle the characteristics of the Earth. A continent can disappear and another reappear. Nothing can resist the divine powers when the laws so require. Man, so small, must go on his way, preferably a spiritual one and, especially, a constructive one in terms of his evolution, which determines his cycles of life.

"Our way has its own vibratory niche. Souls that are ready to join in it can find their spiritual identity, necessary for an acceleration of their progress. Our ceaseless blessings are bestowed on them."
