Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, January 27, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Each one reaps the rewards of his work. We cannot force anybody. We provide the necessary means; it's up to our brothers to utilise them under the guidance of their Master. To have a living Master is a great privilege offered by our way. May all our aspirants be aware of this and not waste time – time is short. This opportunity is offered to them at a moment in the history of the world when expected changes are in the making.

"The main things will take place at this level: the elevation of consciousness in which there will be a crucial evolution for the future of humanity which is currently in danger. Many human beings seem to lose control of their lives. Being vibrationally disturbed by many increasingly harmful effects, their behaviour is affected. It is currently not possible to go back. The system of life is like that: only events surpassing man's imagination could put back in place that which no longer follows divine law.

"The voice of wisdom can no longer be heard; only profit matters here below, to the detriment of the respect for life in all its forms. We can only encourage our brothers to proceed in the way they chose. They are guided and will not be caught off guard when harder times are established on Earth. Strengthened by their spiritual quest, they will be capable of putting things into perspective concerning the future of the human race when those changes come.

"They are blessed and supported and will remain so, whatever may happen."
