Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, February 10, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

To our son,

"Follow your heart, my son. If making that decision can help you in a moment of great tiredness, we leave the decision up to you. Please regain courage. We are by your side, without being able to spare you all the worries associated with your heavy responsibility.

"Your successor will have to be strong on all levels; we do insist on that aspect. Managing the Mission is not an easy task; on both the material and the spiritual levels, a very refined understanding of human nature must guide the action of the Master in charge. The future will increase the expansion of the Mission, hence the need for a judicious choice, which you are capable of making.

"My dear son, the time has not come for you to leave this world. We understand your lassitude while facing the magnitude of the task. You should be assisted more effectively; you cannot cope with everything. It's critical to delegate; it is essential to remain operational in your highly spiritualised action. You cannot act on all fronts at the same time; the spiritual one remains essential.

"Parallel to this world, your action extends to the highest level. You cannot be everywhere, therefore review your timetable and do your level best as usual; you have our approval. Your heart being fed with divine graces already reaches its apotheosis during this stay among men where you are giving your best.

"We love you so much; words are unable to convey it. This is the only means we have for the time being, thanks to our dedicated scribe who is also putting all her heart into serving us.

"May this message reassure you, my dear son, and make you feel the power of our mystical bonds."
