Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, February 11, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

The Spirit has neither borders nor limits; it fosters the whole of these contacts, whatever their source. Thus a communication can be established which is considered special in this world where notions concerning the vibratory field are ignored. All resides in this fact: vibration regulates the whole of life, not only on this planet, but in a more general context unifying the entire creation.

"The lack of openness to this reality leaves humanity open to an unrealistic interpretation of the many phenomena that constitute the framework in which he lives. Will the future raise the veil of illusion? How will the truth touch man of the future? It is not easy to tell currently; so many upheavals must occur here below, transforming the appearance of the current world.

"Dwarves will become giants, not only in terms of height but also in terms of spirit. Everything will then need to be reconsidered; what today's man can hardly understand will be perfectly obvious for the man of the future. The latter will consider with compassion what life was in this world that is somewhat lost in many aspects. Enlightened people said: only spirituality will save the world. That is how it is, hence the reason for our action on Earth.

"Our Mission started on a smaller scale; its inspired movement will not stop so soon. Man, increasingly thirsting for spiritual life, will come towards it and we are delighted for that.

"May all our brothers find the source corresponding to them, and may our blessings strengthen them."
