We try to determine each aspect of your personality in order to make you become aware of your weak points. By identifying them you can seriously get down to eliminating them. All this personal work will save you time and take you through short-cuts. You must clear your way and see ahead a beautiful road, open, luminous, which you will be able to follow with a heart full of joy.

"Think of your brothers who advance less easily than you, because they carry a burden, which delays them. Help them without ever preaching at them. On no account, is the onus on you to do it. Be tolerant, understanding and fraternal, as you would like others to be with you. You are not at the end of the road and you are not safe from stumbling. Be vigilant and strong. Never forget that we follow you and that we see your efforts. We bless you in your undertakings."
