Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday & Wednesday, March 29 & 30, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Let the flower of hope blossom in you; this hope is the most beautiful possible for a human being. It will help you overcome the difficult moments and build a more serene future. Its scent is subtle; receptive hearts are fragrant with its emanations. It alone is capable of transforming one's view of this world and making it better.

"Live on faith and hope, my child. Your prospects are encouraging; don't forget to refer to them. They are the best guarantee of a future full of many experiences going beyond this incarnation. You have everything in you to overcome your fears and your doubts. Be trustful in your destiny and let yourself be guided by your Master; didn't you entrust to him the most secret threads of your destiny? He can use them as per your wishes.

"Your relationship is very rewarding; it expresses itself in the divine love, ennobling each impulse of your heart and increasing the manifestations of grace. Your path is extraordinary. According to your remarks, you live in the shadow of his shadow, but your contacts establish a deep bond between you, which is in the service of a cause, the importance of which you cannot realise, being incarnate.

"The purity of heart works wonders; it also exists in our brothers and sisters who are the most motivated to serve us, thus helping to consolidate the web of the destiny of our Mission, in terms of its material dimension. At the highest level, its chosen Master manages spiritually on all fronts, supported by an active hierarchy.

"This is the outline of this great movement which will keep growing in the future, giving it its true dimension in the eyes of humans."
