Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Wednesday, May 11, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Life is not kind to those who try to thwart its great plans; much evidence has been given in this respect, in our way as well. To give one's body and soul in the service of a great cause is to engage in the movement of life, in its noblest and most creative expression.

"Preparing the ground here and there for its creativity, it manages to build what must be on Earth, in the service of an evolving humanity. Our way takes its place in this vast movement, supported by the impulses of a large and subtle body, decisive in terms of its scope in the service of men. Each one of our aspirants, through his commitment and his work – both personal and collective – takes part in this vast endeavour that is beneficial to all.

"Our Mission has soared over the past fifty years; it will spread swiftly wherever hearts are ready to receive its benefits. We can be delighted, as things are off to a good start and the higher authorities appreciate this. Everything is done in this world to help men find their true reference marks as beings authentically emanating from the Divine.

"Each one follows his own tendencies, according to his origins on Earth and his opportunities. The future will shake up all ancestral traditions; it will tend to unify [people's] minds on a higher reality.

"We are working towards this in our system. All are involved, in this respect. A great unifying movement will emerge from these troubled times, of which Sahaj Marg will be one of the influential elements.

"All has its raison d'être; may all our brothers adhere to these remarks and be shaped accordingly."
