Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, May 13, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

This kind of love cannot be understood, my child; one can only experience it, intensely, and let it grow with time. Then it transforms the being in all its structures, by unifying them. You can be grateful for that; beautiful pages are being written in the book of your life, including the chapter on love which feeds your heart in the best way.

"This blazing fire cannot die out; it burns but is not destroyed, and it gives unparalleled intensity to life. This flame in you lights these messages. Without it, they would not have existed. It is the driving force that pushes you every day, sometimes under difficult conditions, to surpass yourself in meeting our call.

"Let your heart go as much as possible. Love is its vocation – don't you say: 'it can't do anything else but love'! This love is well concealed from the eyes of men. This treasure is not for exhibition; it is meant to be offered to the divine beings for their own use. This process falls within the jurisdiction of divine laws and maintains, for a good cause, that which is considered an achievement here below.

"Love us, keep cultivating in yourself this hidden beauty. It delights us and helps us to not despair of men.

"This had to be said, with due respect to the humility and surrender that characterise you. Do not feel embarrassed. It is normal to devote a message to this subject – do you not believe so! Nearly four thousand [messages] have been gathered, wherein all that is said is revealed with the passing of time. It was right, once more, to emphasise it; thus is our will.

"You have our blessings, my child."
