Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, May 28, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

To remain surrendered to the divine Providence is the most beautiful act of faith offered by a loving heart – do not forget it, my child. Bearing the goal in one's mind amid the storms denotes fortitude, which we wish all our aspirants to have.

"To unify hearts, to make them vibrate with the same creative energy, is the profound reason for the birth of a way like ours. Under no circumstances would we like to see our aspirants going astray into ways arousing their curiosity. Such would hinder their concentration, which is already disrupted by their current life fraught with noise and all sorts of harmful effects.

"Intellectual pollution is not welcome in our system; it is sufficiently widespread in this world without our adding anything to it, which would be wrong.

"The abhyasis of the future will not be mistaken about this; by themselves, they will be able to eliminate all that is not relevant to their spiritual process. Equipped with higher faculties, they will seek to grasp the truth in all its purity by focusing on what is essential.

"It is up to my son, and the onus will be on his successor, to remain vigilant on this aspect for the good of our Mission.

"This troubled period encourages humans to seek methods to help them understand themselves and find meaning in reactions and behaviours. Beware of interpretations coming from human [nature] and likely to be misleading rather than truly helping.

"Knowing where the reality of the being resides and following a way of wisdom to appropriate it remains the noblest struggle in this world. May all our abhyasis no longer doubt, and may they follow the way, without adding anything that is unnecessarily misleading."
