Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Monday, June 6, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

How could your heart resist the attraction of this contact? It lifts you, my child, in greatest jubilation towards the summits. There, a harmonious climate is established and your heart perceives what we have to say by adjusting vibrationally. To be thus listening implies surrender and humility; without this nothing could be done. Trying to be in the forefront would have immediately cancelled any such attempt.

"Your Master made no mistake. Having surpassed his doubts, he managed to put things into perspective and to feel within himself the veracity of these writings, which many of our brothers, thanks to him, have now started benefiting from.

"You are grieved to hear about the very clumsy translations of these messages made in French-speaking countries and read in places of meditation. Initially, this is an indication of the interest aroused by these writings; however, my son will make, as usual, the right decisions.

"The impact generated by these writings goes well beyond human perceptions; they strike a chord, we could say, which unites the being with his creator, a kind of Ariadne's thread connecting him to the source. It is true; these messages should not be distorted. Everything after some time will be back to normal; rest assured, my daughter.

"The new era will yield many wonders. Man of the future will keep discovering them, and he will have to adapt to situations which today's man cannot even imagine. The advanced technology for communication fills him with wonder; however, he will discover other communications that will leave him astounded.

"Let us repeat: my son has courageously made this move, and may he be thanked for this, as a worthy son and successor of his elders [his Masters]."
