Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, July 14, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Love, compassion and forgiveness are the foundations of a true spiritual process. Maintaining a judgemental attitude and grievances considerably curbs one's progress. To divest oneself of useless aspects is to remove, from within, that which is undesirable.

"Divine love must find a clear place in the hearts where it can settle and develop as it pleases. This concept is fundamental. The future era will establish its victory in the hearts. Eventually, men will have understood where the secret of the divine life lies. The most beautiful speeches, the most elaborate essays are pointless without this unique ferment capable of transcending matter. The transformation of humanity will pass through trying stages. The being, rejuvenated in terms of his essential aspects, will be born again and will build a higher life for himself, based on divine principles and in full compliance with them.

"A lot of work remains to be done. Here, all the Great sons of God are united in the service of the same cause, without any distinction whatsoever. Only men are capable of harming themselves in order to impose their ideas, refusing to accept points of view different from theirs. To build the kingdom of peace in this world, to cleanse hearts by opening them up to the transcendence of the Spirit, such is the goal of this higher authority trying to calm men in their excesses of all kinds.

"Nothing is impossible for the divine power. Forces that animate it act in obscurity, but they are especially effective when the moment has come."
