Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, July 22, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Distances separating you from your Master on Earth do not matter. Are you not closer to Him than anyone else? Your bonds go well beyond, surpassing the limits of the material world. What you manage to achieve vibrationally is unprecedented, in terms of its applications. Our way – included in a great movement laying the foundations of the new era in spirituality – had to have its hallmark imprinted at all levels, according to the intentions of the higher hierarchy.

"These many messages coming from various sources favourably meet [the will] of this authority, and this is for a specific purpose: to touch hearts differently. You do not string words together on paper in vain. In the future, as the level of consciousness rises, these messages will touch their target even more than today. Our most refined aspirants have already started to feel the subtle vibration emanating from these writings. This fact reinforces our projects referred to elsewhere and which consist in going further in approaching the world of the Spirit.

"We must let things take their course and rely on your aptitude to follow us in these incursions, which are vibrationally very advanced, and where your natural inclination to love us should overcome your resistances.

"All this is not an easy task. You have every reason to be hesitant in following us; your health is one of the weighty reasons. My daughter, you should feel reassured: nothing will be forced on you. What you have achieved over the years is praiseworthy; these messages will keep a prime position in our way. Prepare for your Master's birthday, which represents an additional step in his aptitude to follow us in the service of humanity. Be thankful for having a spiritual Master like him."
