Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Friday, August 12, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

May your soul come and refresh itself at the providential source; it aspires only to that, being in this arid world where its incarnation has led it. For your soul, mystical joys remain the most beautiful; unceasingly it can drink them in. Withdrawn in some way from the world of men, all its impulses focus on the main thing. The physical body, weary of enduring its burden, and by virtue of the wonder that develops within it, is nourished throughout by victorious emanations of love. This incomparable joy is solace for your physical body. Its fellow creatures – who live their own lives and are in a hurry as all people are on Earth – do not care about the loneliness of others, thus leaving you time to devote to this joy. May victorious love prevail in this world! The awakening of people's consciousness is in the making. Many beings, thanks to their characteristics, are currently forerunners heralding the race of the future – a race superior in many respects and endowed with a rare potential.

"It is good to see in this world the emergence of beings equipped with such characteristics. Recognised or not for what they are, they exist in great number, thus offering a glimpse of the beginnings of the new era that will generate notable upheavals on all levels. Some of these beings already chose our way. Quite naturally they felt attracted by it, because of the special aspects it can contribute to the history of spiritual development. They will be able to create a new spirit among our brothers and sisters, and one in keeping with the desired direction. To unify hearts, to see to it that they open up more and more to the subtle energy of the divine love – there are the great directives of the present and the future, and all, without exception, are involved."
