Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, August 21, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

No, you are not at the ashram with your brothers and sisters. And yet, your heart manages to be united with your Master's heart, beyond a physical presence, since things cannot be otherwise. The spirit is boundless; you are well placed to know this. Thus is created the union between all our aspirants and His spiritual person, in every corner of the world. These special bonds escape human perception; they are nevertheless decisive for a seeker's progress.

"Everything is not limited to this world, as many human beings believe. Their existence remains a very short act in their long history, which includes many characters that come together with one another for karmic purposes. The result of this slow process is a reality that is essential for the path of humans and necessary for their evolution. Our abhyasis chose a spiritual way corresponding to a stage of this evolution and capable of propelling them onto a level suitable for them. All has its raison d'être – they do not come towards us in vain. The time has come for them to prepare to access another level of consciousness in relation to their personal assets, when the global circumstances allow it. This progress will constitute for them a very favourable step – we cannot stress the importance of this enough. When and how [this will take place] is not an issue.

"Great upheavals are in the making, we have said it often. It is up to each one to carry out their life according to their spiritual aspirations and to remain surrendered to the Master, the guide who for this circumstance is endowed with all capabilities."
