Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, October 9, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

To my son,

"My son, a new evolutionary cycle is taking shape which should benefit the world of men. As regards our way, you are its effective custodian, equipped with powers bestowed on you.

"At the dawn of this epic made up of many jolts that somewhat destabilise a society that has already lost its reference marks, our Mission will play its role more than ever by illuminating our followers on the real meaning of their lives. Your role is critical, my son. Do you realise to what extent the thirst for the Divine keeps growing in the hearts for whom you are the chosen guide and the custodian? Our method is a sure means provided to them and whose effects you make sacred. We have already said this: our Mission will play an important role in the future. By belonging to the core of a great liberating movement that focuses on the essentials without any superfluous preamble, it will exactly answer the needs of this new era which many [people] allude to without realising exactly what it consists of. A new page will then be written for the world and our own way.

"My beloved son, spare yourself, accept this period of your life where you can no longer manage material things to your liking. Your immense potential as far as the main things are concerned is expanding to the full, as evidenced by your brief journeys outside this limited world. Be at peace; you meet our expectations more than ever. Voyages are not necessarily made by Earthly means; you are well placed to know this. Our aspirants must also understand it by opening up their vision to impalpable aspects. Otherwise, they will miss the true spirit of our way, of which you are the undisputed and blessed mentor. We are with you, my son, as far as we can be and we surround you with all our love.

"May the ineffable joy, this impalpable nourishment, remain in you."

Babuji
