Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, October 14, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

How could your heart miss us to such an extent? Did you forget that we completely take control of it? Bathing in a rare energy – as is the case here – makes it no longer feel the difference between lack and fullness. Beyond any human sensitivity, it exults in serving us and communing every day with the Ultimate. All takes place in the subtlety of the higher planes that you come into contact with, by divine grace. Without this, how could you receive us so regularly, as you have been doing for a long time? When we have reached the end of this history of messages, the last word will, in the final analysis, mean: 'the beginning'.

"[It will be] the beginning of its trajectory over time and its reality in hearts. This is in line with the current spirit of our way, in accordance with the first steps of the new era and appreciably modifying the vibration of receptive hearts, in relation to a beneficial effort. Don't lose sight of this aspect; it must reassure you on the next steps that are planned concerning these writings, which on any account should not worry you. Your role is to receive us and to follow up on these writings, as we both know. Thus, as far as you are concerned, all is well. This work is already bearing its fruit in the hearts; this beginning is promising.

"My son is laying solid foundations in our Mission; it must be operational on all levels. Nothing must be left to chance. The current complexity of life in this world is such that one should not neglect any possible consequences of each action.

He [my son] knows to be vigilant; his highly elevated spiritual competence does not in any way detract him from his usual sagacity."
