Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Monday, October 17, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear son,

"All this energy expended in serving our Mission attracts, as you know, all our blessings and our approval for the trips you devote to it. We are in full agreement with that, insofar as your physical capacity can allow it. Do not go beyond your strength. You are a traveller, my son, and this thirst for trips and contacts serves our way admirably.

"Whatever you undertake towards its expansion satisfies us. Our son Krishna, at your side, gains in experience; we closely monitor his path and we particularly bless him. Your efforts must be focused on the establishment of sites that foster gatherings for our aspirants. These places play an important role; what must make them live is the fervour of our brothers and sisters and their motivation to express this fervour in these regular gatherings. Seminars are concrete evidence of an aspect of their sadhana, helping them become better aware of the work that they carry out.

"Your blessed presence illuminates our Mission. Make it a priority to devote your strength to it. It expects everything of you. Our followers aspire to see you; in this respect, India must become the high place of devotion, where they can express their own in a more concrete way.

"Do your very best, my dear son. Your plans are good and we approve them, in the spirit which we have just mentioned. Let both of you be our celestial travellers, incarnate and united in the service of a noble cause: our Mission, and also yours."
