Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, October 30, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Let harmony be established in you. Open up your heart to grace, and then, love and pray. The heart-to-heart bond in the face of adversity, the regained cohesion in universal love – that is what will save the world from its current distress. Humanity goes astray, and what should enlighten it [is instead] dividing and inciting it to violence. The divine laws are scoffed at. Where can men go under such conditions? It is critical to bring them back to a more correct view of things. May light appear in their hearts and guide them towards a better status, with total respect for one another. There is room in this world for the diversity of races and customs, and for the view everyone can have of the divine power and its expression in them. An idyllic world won't happen in a hurry. Violence and hatred are its most insidious enemies, but all will end up changing and peace will be established among those who will finally understand the universal message of the incomparable primacy of divine love. In these more than troubled times, it is necessary to dwell on this issue. The current distress of a good many human beings cannot leave us unmoved.

"Our way offers prospects for elevation; our aspirants apply themselves to that as best they can. The most convinced work fervently. All are helped and supported, according to their personality and profound convictions. Sahaj Marg is making its way as planned; it is part and parcel of the great plans for a complete change of mankind's world."
