Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, November 6, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Be united with the hearts of the abhyasis joined together today in an ascending vibratory movement, under the guidance of the spiritual Master carrying high the flag of our Mission in this world. Let yourself be seized by this energy which goes far beyond the framework of our aspirants in their usual practice. The latter creates a power which they all benefit from, in proportion to their personal commitment and the number of abhyasis joining the initial group.

"The Mission also is making progress, illuminating the hearts touched by its simplicity and the consistency of effects it produces in them, which they may not fully sense. Whatever is good endures and will continue enduring when times have become completely conducive to its action geared towards a large-scale expansion on all levels of consciousness.

"The movement of life is ceaseless in all its prerogatives. Men can only bow to it, they are dependent on its laws, more than they can imagine. They believe they create and run the world, when they themselves are subjected to the divine principles that conceive things in a coherent manner.

"The human characteristics must be expressed; this is the goal of an incarnation, to which are associated inevitable adjustments throughout a process specific to each. Nothing occurs without reason; neither the human being, nor any other living creature, guides their lives as man believes they do. Ceaseless is the action of the higher powers. Our way is subjected to it; it meets the signs of the times, preparing the future of humanity in its integral change."
