Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Friday, November 18, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

Let your heart dance on a joyful melody, where the whirl of words tries to convey what we inspire in it. Attentive to our wishes, it complies with this ritual, driven by a force which you humanly miss sometimes. Will our readers perceive this climate of love and surrender, capable of touching them beyond the bondage in which their mind keeps them? Little by little, we are developing a subtle landscape where they will be able to recognise their touching purity – a purity that is revealed by regular practice in line with the principles of our way. Having a human attitude, in conformity with this incarnation, there is a truth in them which they are eager to know. It is found in the simplicity of a sincere approach far from complicated formulas where the intellect can prevail. By progressing in detachment from material values, one gives free rein to the best of the being in its salutary expansion. To what extent can we touch people's hearts with simple words? Everyone can assess their effects on them when reading us. This work is personal and results from a special receptiveness of the soul to grasp what is essential to its development through the reading of these lines.

"Our goal is to prepare our readers and bring them to sense a special vibration. Man's most beautiful victories are won over themselves by a constant determination to achieve the goal. The resources of our way contribute to this; it is up to them to act under the blessings of their Master, vigilant in his action of serving all our aspirants. May all our brothers and sisters be fulfilled in this search for the absolute splendour."
