Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Isn't the contact between our two hearts permanent? You must slow down, my child; that's how it is. The ease of our communication simplifies things for us. If nothing is written down, that does not mean that there is no communion. You should certainly not lose sight of this reality. You are not inactive, be reassured on this aspect. Be patient and surrendered to the divine power. Everything is for the best; carry on like that.

"Life is multifaceted, as you know. It expresses itself in its own way, using each atom and fostering an expansion of consciousness. Nothing is lost in Creation; this perpetual movement supports it, providing a perfect molecular cohesion. Life – yours – like all that animates its expression, constitutes a unique force, creative and undergoing a complete mutation through its repetitive cycles. Renewal creates life and vice versa; wherever it may take place, it replicates the same patterns.

"This world will have to adjust to great changes in the future; all that lives will undergo an unprecedented change in history. Then, the objective will be achieved and humanity, making a fresh start, will eventually be able to find fulfilment in the desired direction. This life plan is hardly conceivable today and yet so will it be, to the scientists? great displeasure, who are firm in their principles that are made of fleeting convictions, to say the least. When finally this world appears in its reality, today's most plausible assumptions will become mere memories."
