Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Love is a source of energy, my child; cultivate it, in the way you do so well. Isn't it the best way of introducing this observation! Celestial songs cannot include any dissonant notes; only purity of intention can open the [relevant] doors and ensure that harmony be established wherever gifts alone are not enough. To interiorise oneself, to be connected to the Divine, means to leave behind the trail of thoughts that are undesirable in this kind of quest. To be carried away by the purifying wave of the Spirit means offering oneself unrestrainedly to its effects, thus elevating the soul towards its higher destiny.

"These comments create the necessary vibration in you, as will be felt by those who, in their reading, will offer us enough attention and love. The conquest of space, as men conceive it, is a utopian view; the only worthy conquest is the conquest of the Spirit, in terms of its impalpable and great aspects. Wonder is created in it; the summit to be reached requires an extraordinary ascent and total commitment, for which our way offers sound means.

?For a heart that understands the secret of laws, exuding love and sharing it is the best assurance in all this matter. Such laws escape men's shrewdness as they are highly subtle. A loving heart is a happy heart; it receives even more than it gives. Could we wish anything better for all our candidates than this invaluable gift from heaven? With our blessings."
