Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, January 19, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

While developing over the passing years, our way carries in its wake hearts that are ready to reap the fruits of its action. Many of our brothers and sisters – faithful abhyasis – made their life a hymn to its spirit, as they are aware of the soundness of its implications in this disorientated world. They believe in its beneficial effects and disregard the inevitable human reactions, specific to everyone. They do not hamper the essence and find the justification of our way in the process of following our principles.

"They cultivate in themselves this holy flame, lasting in the heart of the creature – complicated in its human attributes, but managing to surpass them in this sublime search for the Divine. By understanding where this essence lies and conforming to a way of life capable of including unremitting and redeeming practice, they show their profound aspiration to rise and to surpass the small framework of the world of matter. To be on the path entails abiding by some fundamental rules aimed at fostering one's development.

"Seeking God in oneself is a true challenge to man; finding Him is the supreme reward. May all our aspirants let themselves be carried in this redeeming spiral that will give them inner peace and harmony. Except for this asset, what remains of man's tangible and enlightening aspect, spiritually speaking, in an incarnation where everything can be acquired or lost instantly? Man's way is risky; will he make the right decision in his life? By getting into a spiritual way, he shows his will to act in compliance with divine principles. What he did before, or did not do, does not matter. It is now up to him to mark out his own way with the help and blessings of the Masters and especially his Master – thus all is well."
