Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, January 22, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

My child, throughout these years, you gave us your best by surmounting, each day, an often testing physical condition, to collect in your heart a teaching in line with present and future times. Through an enthusing exchange between your heart and ours, a very specific energy emerges from these writings, corresponding to idealised love, in the way it exists in the kingdom of the Spirit.

"Please don't give up, not yet; some beautiful pages are yet to be written and kept together with the already existing precious wealth of messages to meet the request of our interested brothers and sisters. The life of these messages is starting; some brothers and sisters will be faithful to them as they will find in them an emanation of the Divine and a special space within our way. It is not easy to live on this Earth; the attraction of life resides in the hardness of the path. Nobody is spared; the university of Life does not award its distinctions thoughtlessly. The opportunity to grow is given at each step, yet one has to seize it and understand the major reasons of any ordeal. Wisdom requires time and a very profound awareness of the divine laws escaping the majority of human beings in their diversity. An incarnation on the Earth represents a page of the great book of life, one which Earthmen cannot access under their current condition. Let them actually consider the principle that everything matters: their movements speak for themselves and place them on the ladder of their rise towards the highest summits. May they truly obtain the full measure of it; that depends on them.

"May all be blessed."
