Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, April 1, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

May the awakening of nature inspire new impulses in you that fill you with even greater fervour and raise you towards the heights of bliss. The jubilation of the soul provides all the beneficial effects. Managing to withdraw into oneself and to taste the unfailing joys of divine life is the most precious gift. Immerse yourself in this ocean of grace, being united with your Master while your heart is surrendered and free from worldly ties. In this moment, anything can happen. The only thing that matters is the bliss of existing as a loving soul and, even more, being caught up in the swirl of this energy, rare and deliberately offered up to its beneficial action – thus can be achieved the most secret wishes of the being.

"Collect yourself, my child, and let your heart exhale its fragrances. They will touch sensitive souls capable of recognising their subtlety, in terms of its specific vibration. More than ever, we surround you. Do not feel abandoned and do not dwell on the vagaries and controversies of this world; they are not worth worrying about. Follow your path with fervour, as it is your most reliable ally. Life on this Earth is a short stay, which one should make the most of. Until the end, you will serve us, according to your wishes. The mere fact of loving would be enough, [even] without the gifts received and offered to our cause.

"All people of goodwill devote themselves to serving us – and there are very many of them. Many of our brothers and sisters are fully committed, having found through this, the means to give a deeper meaning to their lives in this world. Offering one's best, with love and faith in our system, contributes to its establishment on this Earth, according to God's plans designed well in advance. All major ways in this world started on a small scale before they widely expanded. Ours is making its way into hearts. It meets the demands of this time, so that the divine will can manifest itself where and when it wishes."
