Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Wednesday, April 5, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

Make your life become an ode to the divine splendour; feed on it at every moment. Let it revive your entire being and intensely fill it with joy. Never weary of celebrating this festival inside yourself; too many humans forsake it and run towards futile pleasures doing disservice to their evolution. Divest yourself of useless things; this has been repeated a hundred times. These remarks have gained ground and have contributed to the transformation of your being. They will act accordingly for all our diligent readers who understand the very essence of their contents.

"Beyond words, there is a subtle vibration that operates to mark hearts with the divine seal. In our way, everything takes place quietly, without any fanfare or ritual. The truth resides beyond what humans can perform and that which superficially marks people's minds. Our action lies elsewhere. It gets to the heart of the matter and plays its part at the dawn of new times when illusory aspects will no longer prevail. Simplicity and effectiveness: that is how our way can be defined. With time, its highly spiritualised attributes will be more evident than ever. Throughout these pages, the creative beauty of the Spirit has been essential, beyond the simple words that have been used to express it. When understanding through the heart, one does not dwell on useless rhetorical persons that do not specifically serve the intended purpose.

"Here we are in a special context. Sensitive souls will be able to appreciate the contents of these messages, the strong and special aspects they manage to distil from the literature of our way. My son will leave his mark in the uniqueness of this literature with this correspondence that will stand out among its kind. All this work will be seen as very important. With time, it will find a favourable resonance in the hearts that were the least disposed towards it in the beginning. Its impact will leave profound marks in them, without their being able to assess its true worth. All is well, my child. Be at peace."
